Dulles In Surprise Flight To Paris

Confers Today With Eden, Mendes-France

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of State Dulles left by plane for Paris last night in a surprise move which he said demonstrates "the deep concern" he feels over developments in Indochina and Europe.

Dulles expressed hope that conferences scheduled with French Premier Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Eden today would assure "coordinated action" by the three governments.

THE SECRETARY emphasized that his flying visit to Paris in no way means he has changed his previous decision to stay away from the Geneva Far East peace conference where Indochina truce talks are nearing a showdown stage.

Dulles left aboard a four-engined Air Force plane, less than three hours after the State Department disclosed that, in answer to an urgent French invitation, he had agreed to talk with Mendes-France and Eden at meetings this afternoon and tonight. The White House said President Eisenhower approved the trip.

IN A STATEMENT at the airport, Dulles served notice that the United States might take an attitude different from that of France in any truce aimed at settling the Indochina war.

"The United States itself is not a belligerent in Indochina," he said, "and it is not clear that the interests which we hold in common with France and Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia will necessarily be best served by identical action in all respects.

"THEREFORE, my trip to Paris is without prejudice to the position previously expressed that neither I nor Undersecretary Smith have at the present time any plans for going to Geneva where the United States is presently maintaining contacts with developments through Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and his associates."

Chou, Eden Talk Peace

GENEVA (AP)—Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai flew back to Geneva yesterday to throw into high gear once again the East-West negotiations for peace in Indochina.

Western efforts were stepped up to give full power to French Premier Pierre Mendes-France under the eight-day deadline he has set for a settlement or resignation of his government.

The conference received a new stimulus yesterday afternoon with the announcement from Washington that U. S. Secretary of State Dulles had decided on a hurry-up trip to Paris last night to confer with Mendes-France on the Indochina negotiations.

EDEN WILL go to Paris with the French premier for talks with Dulles, who apparently acceded to repeated urgings by Mendes-France that he lends his fullest support to the fateful peace conference.

The whole conference process yesterday shifted to a series of binational meetings between leaders of the various delegations, with Mendes-France filling the heaviest schedule.

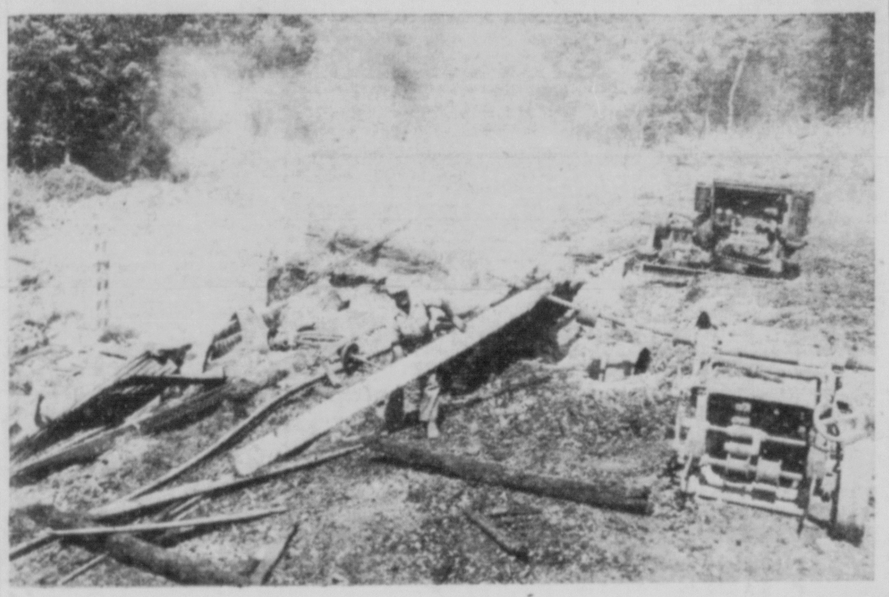

Avalanches Seen As New Threat To Flood Area

VIENNA (AP)—Flood stricken central Europe faced a new threat yesterday. Avanlanches roaring down the snow-capped Alps may cause subsiding rivers to rise again.

Snowslides already were reported in the Austrian Alps. The slides started under sudden summer sun, coming in the wake of a week of winter-like storms.

The threat arose as thousands of Austria's and Germany's estimated 70,000 homeless returned to the sodden debris of their hearths, and as other European nations poured in offers of help.

At least 27 persons have been killed in the disaster—central Europe's worst flood in centuries. Crop damage alone runs into millions of dollars.

$17,000 Damage Results In Latest Of Series Of Fires Occurring In Kresgeville Region

KRESGEVILLE — A sawmill and barn burned to the ground within 17 hours here last week, sending damage figures for both structures to $17,000.

The fires were number six and seven since Jan. 8, all within five miles of this community. Five of the blazes started from undetermined origin.

First of the most recent fires occurred at 3 a. m. Thursday when flames destroyed a 100-year-old two-story barn on the Milton Kreimoyer property just west of this village.

The second came at 10 p. m. at the Robert Getz sawmill about five miles north of here, destroying the 11-year-old frame building, a small dwelling adjoining. The flames killed a young dog that sounded the alarm to his master.

WILLIAM KREIMOYER, brother of Milton, spotted the first blaze from his adjoining home. By the time both men could summon Towamensing Township Fire Co. of Trachsville, the fire had a head start.

Milton said the frame barn, 30 by 35 feet, was filled with grain and hay, his winter stock for cattle. He estimated damages at $5,000, partially covered by insurance.

The owner said he formed a bucket-brigade attempting to save several smaller structures, dousing the buildings with water to stave off the intense heat that burned the barn to the ground.

WHEN FIREMEN reached the scene they connected hoses to Pohopoko Creek and made every effort to save the building. The fire had too much of a head start, however, Kreimoyer said.

Seventeen hours later, Towamensing firemen and West End Fire Co. of Brodheadsville were summoned to the Getz sawmill where $12,000 damage was done, according to Warren Getz, son of the mill owner.

Witnesses said it appeared flames started in the northwest corner of the 60 by 30-foot building.

GARY SERFASS, a pensioned World War One veteran occupied a small building adjoining the mill. He was alerted by the barking of his three-year-old dog, and left as his home was being enveloped in flames; losing his entire possessions. The dog was trapped inside the burning structure and died in the fire, according to witnesses.

Meanwhile Getz' two sons, Lawrence, who lives about 50 yards from the mill, and Wilbur rushed to the scene. Wilbur manned a bulldozer nearby and pushed several hundred pounds of fire-wood away from the burning structure, also saving much of the lumber already cut and stored to the west of the mill.

FIREMEN hurried into action but were too late to save the building. Inside were a 69-horsepower motor, planer and numerous other sawing equipment and expensive lumber, all destroyed. The building was constructed in 1943, Warren Getz said. It was partially covered by insurance.

Smoke still spiraled from the charred ruins yesterday and two employes, Enos Green and Joseph Andrews worked throughout the day to clear away the ruins.

The series of area fires started Jan. 8 when a barn owned by Robert Getz was damaged by the explosion of a kerosene stove. Some potatoes stored in the barn in Jonas were ruined.

ON JAN. 14 the former Charles Zacharias farm owned by Charles Frantz, Saylorsburg, was destroyed. Origin was undetermined.

A second fire in the Robert Getz barn occurred on March 30. At that time fire of undetermined origin swept the frame building valued at $5,000 and destroyed $10,000 in potatoes owned by Getz' son Warren.

On May 23 the home of Mr. and Mrs. William George was destroyed while the couple was away. Damage was estimated at $6,000 and cause undetermined.

A bolt of lightning struck the Milton Dotter barn three miles north of here on June 10, destroying the building valued at $5,000.

Housing Investigators Ask Possible Action Against Two Builders Who Refuse To Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate housing scandal investigators voted yesterday to ask the Justice Department whether criminal action should be brought against two New Jersey builders.

The vote, in the Senate Banking Committee, followed a public hearing at which one of the builders, Sidney Sarner of Tenafly, N. J., refused to answer questions. Sarner stood by his rights under the Fifth Amendment not to testify against himself.

The committee decided to send to the Justice Department the transcript of testimony taken recently in a secret committee meeting from Sarner and Ralph Solow, his partner, for possible criminal action.

FURTHER, chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said the committee decided to ask the Senate's legislative counsel whether George I. Marcus, a Sarner-Solow partner and their attorney, was in contempt of the Senate. Marcus refused to answer questions, but did not plead the Fifth Amendment.

The committee is inquiring into reports of huge windfall profits on government-insured housing loans.

During yesterday's stormy public session, Sarner would give only his name and address. Marcus shouted at Capehart:

"WE ARE unable to prove or disprove your innuendos. We are not going to permit you to publicize these matters and shoot your mouths off. We did nothing wrong."

Capehart's Senate Banking Committee is digging into reports that many builders and promoters of apartment projects around the country, by estimating their costs too high, were able to get such large Federal Housing Administration loans that they could pocket a fat profit at small risk of their own money.

Churchill Vows Not To Press China Issue

By Jack Smith

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said yesterday Britain stands with the United States in opposing admission of Communist China into the United Nations under present conditions.

Simultaneously the prime minister hinted that President Eisenhower favors in principle his plan for an informal meeting between them and Soviet Premier Georgi N. Malenkov.

Reporting to the House of Commons on his Washington talks with the President, Churchill emphasized that Britain still wants the Chinese Reds to prove good faith before taking China's U. N. seat.

"THE FOREIGN Secretary (Anthony Eden) and I were astonished on our homeward voyage to read in the press and other reports which were sent to us of the storm suddenly raised in the United States by Sen. Knowland (Republican majority leader) about the possibility of Communist China being admitted to the United Nations against American wishes, and still more astonished that these reports seemed to be in some way or other linked with our visit, as if we had come over for such a purpose," he said.

Churchill emphasized that the subject "played no noticeable part" in his Washington discussions and was "not an immediate issue."

"ALTHOUGH THE BRITISH government still believes that the Central People's Communist government should represent China in the United Nations," he told the packed House, "they do not consider that this is the moment for the matter to be reconsidered."

The prime minister said time would be needed to judge China's good faith and cooperation even if the Reds and other powers reached agreements on Korea and Indochina, such agreements, he observed, would depend on good faith.

At the close of his 50-minute speech, former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, leader of the Labor party, asked Churchill whether the idea of a Big Three conference had been raised in Washington.

"YES, SIR," Churchill answered, "it certainly was discussed in general terms between me and the President and in our circle there, and all its difficulties were surveyed.

"Broadly speaking, I think the question is more one of timing than anything else.

French Halt Attackers

HANOI, INDOCHINA (AP)—Three thousand Vietminh joining the squeeze on the Red River Delta's shrinking defenses were pounded by French armored and infantry units and left 300 dead on the battlefield. A French briefing officer said the troops had been staked out to catch the rebels.

The officer said the battle was fought for five hours Sunday when Communist-led rebels tried to smash three French Union posts about 20 miles south of Hanoi. All the posts—Lekhu, Dong Ly, and Truong Thon — withstood the assault.

THE THREE POSTS are along the Hung Yen-Hanoi supply line. The fierce French counterattack, spearheaded by tanks, beat the rebels off before their demolition teams could blow up sections of the road which supplies the isolated garrison at Hung Yen, about 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Girl Reunited With Parents

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — With tears and loving scolding, Peggy Ann Hewston was reunited yesterday with the family which feared her dead for two years.

Peggy Ann's mother, Mrs. Robert B. Hewston of Edgewood, Pa., fell sobbing into her daughter's arms as she emerged from the family car after the long ride to New Mexico and her long lost daughter.

"Oh, honey, honey, why didn't you at least drop us a postcard," Mrs. Hewston cried, holding tight to her 17-year-old daughter, now a wife and mother.

Peggy Ann—wife of Airman Tom Cofy fled from her Pittsburgh home two years ago.

Senate Committee Clears Foreign Aid Bill, Drops Curb On France And Italy

By Robert W. Hercher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee abandoned yesterday a plan which might have deprived France and Italy of all foreign aid at the end of the year, and then approved a $3,100,000,000 foreign aid program for the next 12 months.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) announced the committee had voted 8-5 to accept virtually unchanged the House-approved language of a far less drastic provision.

The committee also voted, 7-6, Wiley said, to approve an amendment by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) which would hand over the foreign aid program to the Defense and State departments on June 30, 1955. But Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), insisted the amendment is not necessarily a vote to end foreign aid as of that date.

SMITH HAD presided as acting chairman of the committee at most of its work in revising the House bill pending the return to Washington of Wiley yesterday.

The amendment affecting France and Italy, two of America's major allies, was softened after it was reported that the administration requested such action.

In the form tentatively approved by the Senate group over the weekend, the amendment would have cut off American military and economic assistance to the two countries on Dec. 31 unless by that time they had joined the European Defense Community or an acceptable substitute defense setup.

THE HOUSE version, known as the Richards amendment, would deny to France and Italy a share of 1954 or 1955 foreign aid funds if they failed to ratify the EDC pact, but would not bar them from previously appropriated funds. A good deal of the goods purchased with this money is just entering the foreign aid pipeline.

Wiley said it will take staff members until today to work out details of cuts which he said will amount to about $348,200,000. These will bring total authorizations down to the $3,100,000,000 figure.

Wiley said the cuts, about 10 per cent, are in the categories of direct and indirect military aid and development assistance.

Postal, Police Officials Note Age Of Progress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today, the Post Office Department will start putting its mailmen in speedy little trucks to take some of the strain and pain off their feet and backs.

The new system for house to house delivery will be inaugurated in parts of two Ohio cities, Akron and Youngstown.

"Within several years," the department said, it will be extended nationwide.

LAKELAND, FLA. (AP)—Lakeland policemen have started riding their beats on bicycles equipped with two-way radios.

Police Chief Leo Brooker said the bikes will let the policemen make their rounds more quickly and cover wider areas.

"And last," he added, "bicycles are silent and the approach of the officers will not be noticed."

Eisenhower Bids Governors Join Federal Government In $50 Million Road Program

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower, through Vice President Nixon, tossed to wary governors last night a bid to join the federal government in a massive, 10-year, 50-billion-dollar highway program.

Eisenhower said 50 billion would represent only a good start on a "grand plan" to turn an obsolete road network into a system capable of meeting defense needs in a possible atomic war and the requirements of a population that may reach 200 million by 1970.

THE WORDS were Eisenhower's but the voice was that of Nixon, here at the 46th annual conference of state governors to speak in place of his absent chief.

Nixon read notes, with some additions and filling in of gaps, which the chief executive himself had planned to use until a death in the family prevented a trip to Bolton Landing.

While the presidential notes failed to come right out and plug for a 50-billion-dollar highway plan, Nixon did it for Eisenhower.

"A 50-BILLION-DOLLAR highway program in 10 years," the vice president said, "is a goal toward which we can and should work."

Only yesterday, governors at the conference took critical flings at a much smaller, 900-milion federal aid highway plan just enacted by Congress. They want the states to build highways, and the U. S. government to quit taxing gasoline and cars so the states can tap these revenue sources for road financing.

The issue is coming up again in a conference round table session today.

NIXON WAS known to have been tipped that criticism of Eisenhower's grand plan for a federal-state alliance to build highways nationwide. It was expected that he would take it over with some of the governors, among them the conference chairman, Dan Thornton of Colorado.

The result were some Nixon additions to the Eisenhower notes stressing the idea of cooperation and Eisenhower's own thought that at the local level the highway plan must have local control. Nixon said he knew "how deeply the President believes it."

As Thornton interpreted things in an interview:

"THE PRESIDENT is tossing a problem to the governors. He says 50 billion is needed for roads in the next 10 years. The states are being offered the opportunity to go ahead on it under local management where possible.

"The inference is, if they don't do it, the federal government will go ahead on its own."

In a footnote of his own to the Eisenhower notes, Nixon told the governors that two great factors indicate there may be no atomic war or traditional war.

ONE, HE SAID, is the deterrent effect of atomic weapons. He said that on his own round-the-world trip last fall Gov. Gen Slim of Australia told him such weapons might turn out to be a great influence for peace, because the time is approaching when manpower no longer may be decisive in warfare.

The second factor, he said is that Communists have made headway mainly by infiltration and internal subversion in other nations.

THE GREATEST DANGER lies in Asia and Africa, among uncommitted peoples, Nixon said. It is up to the free nations to win such peoples over, he asserted.

Five Hungry Men Aboard Raft Drifting Slowly Toward Hawaii; Radioman Anxious To Quit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five hungry men on a foodless raft were drifting yesterday 120 miles south of the Golden Gate, still 2,200 miles from their objective, Hawaii, after three days of floating with the ocean currents.

Four were still determined to draft to Hawaii on their box-like 32-foot craft, the Lehi. But the fifth radioed hurry-up calls to "get me off this damned thing."

THE AMATEUR sailors, who are catching their own food and manufacturing their own drinking water with a solar still, had reported eating only one salmon and drinking one quart of water since they left San Francisco Friday afternoon. But they turned down a Coast Guard offer for a tow to shore.

That didn't go for radioman Don Smith of Santa Rosa. He said he had a cold, was coming down with the flu and "I wish someone would get on the ball and do something."

"All of the crew feel fine," he radioed, "except me. I feel lousy."

A RELIEF expedition set out from San Francisco by land and sea to take him off and supply the raft with a new radio and radioman.

The rescue expedition under the trip's sponsor, Dr. Arthur B. Fearon, planned to charter a boat in Monterey for the sea-going part of their trip, and perhaps also tow the Lehi further out to sea to catch the ocean currents. The raft wallowed in the coastal current that kept it relatively close to shore.

A COAST Guard plane on a routine mission spotted the Lehi in clear weather and calm seas during the day.

Coast Guard officials said a radio exchange with the raft showed it was not in need of assistance and required no further attention from the Coast Guard at this time.

Aside from Smith, the Lehi's crew plan to drift southward with the currents until they catch the westward ocean stream which they think will carry them to Hawaii.

THE BOX-LIKE raft has a sail and two outboard motors for emergency power, but skipper Devere Baker, 38, of Petaluma, Calif., is relying on the currents to take them where they want to go.

Burgess Calls Meeting With Cop And Chief

CHIEF BURGESS Hal H. Harris announced early last night he would meet this morning with Officer Russell Decker, in the presence of Police James F. McConnell, "to outline to him the exact conditions under which he may work in this borough, and if he accepts those conditions I will assign him to duty Wednesday morning."

The chief burgess emphasized that his meeting with Decker will take place with Chief McConnell present. He also emphasized that as administrator of the police force his outline of "conditions" under which Decker will be required to work will not be anything that McConnell would disprove of as chief of police.

IN MAKING his announcement, Chief Burgess Harris also said that at no time during the controversy involving Decker's suspension, did he attempt to convey to anybody that he is "running this town."

"What I was talking about was running the police department. Throughout this case, when I said I'm running things around here I meant the police department of which I am the legally elected head."

The chief burgess emphasized that under the law he has full control over police operations and, he added: "What I said many times was that I'm the duly elected head of the police through the office of chief burgess, and as such, intend to run that department, not the town."

MR. HARRIS noted that Decker is free to accept the outline of conditions which he as the duly elected director of police activities is legally empowered to set up, or Decker may reject them, as he sees fit.

Stroudsburg Council, after a hearing of charges brought against Decker at their July 7 meeting, sustained Chief Burgess Harris' suspension from June 3 to July 7 "without pay", but reinstated him as of the July 7 meeting.

Their action insofar as month's suspension without pay was based on Decker's refusal to follow an order issued by the Chief Burgess as the legally authorized head of police.

THE REINSTATEMENT was based on belief that Decker was exercising his own best judgment in the interest of the borough's citizens when he refused the order.

Decker has reported for duty July 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and in each instance Chief Burgess Harris directed that he not be assigned to duty. Meanwhile, as a reinstated officer, he is eligible for pay from the borough.

Body To Be Exhumed

CHICAGO (AP) — The body of Montgomery Ward Thorne, 20-year-old heir to a mail order fortune, will be taken from its grave at Rosehill Cemetery and examined, Coroner Walter E. McCarron said last night.

Mrs. Marion C. Thorne, mother of the youth who died under mysterious circumstances in a $75-a-month Chicago North Side room June 19, agreed to the exhumation. She said she wants "to get at the truth" of her sons' death.

FOUR MEDICAL specialists summoned by McCarron reported yesterday that an examination of tissue samples taken from Thorne's body before his burial threw no light on the cause of death. They recommended the exhumation.

The consultation of medical experts was called by McCarron after some pathologists who read the coroner's medical report expressed differences of opinion with Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's physician, who said he believed death resulted from narcotics, sleeping drugs and wood alcohol.

Stock Broker's Home Guarded

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police said yesterday they were guarding the suburban home of a Philadelphia stock broker after a threat to kidnap his infant daughter was made in New York City.

Abington Township police said the threat was made yesterday morning by telephone to the child's grandmother, Mrs. Sidney H. Strauss at her Fifth Ave. home in New York City. Mr. Strauss is a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

The 10-day-old girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven C. Kraus of the Jenkintown Manor section of Abington Township.

Kraus said he was convinced the threat was the work of a "crank."

MONROE COUNTY had five motor vehicle deaths during the first five months of 1954.

All five deaths occurred in rural Monroe County areas, the report shows.

WAYNE COUNTY had one motor vehicle death during the period; the same as the first five months in 1953. Pike County has none for either period.

According to the State report there were 560 traffic deaths during the first five months of 1954 — a decrease of 52 over the same period last year.

Jaycees To Sponsor July Visit Of Red Cross Bloodmobile

Donor Pledges Being Sought For July 22

MONROE COUNTY'S youngest business-public servicevbg kh mrd business-public service group takes on its second major task this month as the Jaycees sponsor the July visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

The mobile blood collection unit will stop at Stroudsburg First Presbyterian Church on Thursday, July 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A committee has been appointed by Jaycees to arouse public interest in the collection.

Chairman of the Jaycees committee is Robert S. Widmer, who said last night that the July Bloodmobile visit is doubly important "from the standpoint of personal interest to Monroe countians."

DURING THE past few months a serious deficit has occured in the donation of blood by local residents. Although this deficit has now been wiped away temporarily, Widmer said, by the contributions of Tobyhanna Signal Depot employes, all Monroe residents should realize that the area blood bank operates on a month-by-month basis.

Unless this month's drive is successful there may still be a curtailment of blood supplies to the Monroe County General Hospital, Red Cross officials indicated.

Blood collected through the mobile unit is used in the manufacture of "gamma globulin", also known as "GG". The globulin is a blood fraction. It has been used in the past as a trial preventive for polio.

RESEARCHERS have found that gamma globulin is highly effective in the prevention of measles, however. In field tests conducted by research scientists GG has shown excellent properties in its use against measles, one of the most common—and often dangerous—of childhood diseases.

Blood donated during the local drive goes to the area blood bank in Wilkes-Barre. At that central storage point it is made available on demand to the local hospital—provided the local area has met its full quota.

If the full quota is not met the area blood bank may be forced to limit contributing districts to a percentage of their total collection.

BLOOD SUPPLIES from the Wilkes-Barre bank are also available to any resident of Monroe County who is hospitalized anywhere in the State.

All that is necessary, according to local Red Cross officials, is for the hospital in which the local person is a patient, to place a requisition with the Wilkes-Barre center. The blood will then be sent to the hospital and "charged" to the Monroe county total.

In announcing plans for the July Bloodmobile visit last night, Jaycee chairman Widmer made a special appeal to the numerous camps and resorts in the county area.

"MANY PERSONS who are employed by or who are guests at area businesses are treated each Summer in Monroe County General Hospital. During the past the Red Cross blood drive has received wonderful support from these resorts, camps and their personnel," Widmer said.

"Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce hope this cooperation will again be shown this month, during the height of the annual vacation season," the chairman continued.

Members of the committee, in addition to Widmer, are Mac Below, Howard Mills, Edward Somers, William Barton and William Gorton.

Persons wishing to pledge a pint of blood during the drive may contact these committee members or any member of the Jaycees.

LAWRENCE W. Bergheimer, right, being congratulated by Frank L. Patterson Jr., president of the Patterson-Kelley Co., after announcement of his recent promotion to the position of general superintendent in charge of all P-K plant operations.

Patterson-Kelley Company Promotes L. W. Bergheimer To General Superintendent

FRANK L. PATTERSON JR., president and general manager of the Patterson-Kelley Co., Inc., East Stroudsburg, has announced the appointment of Lawrence W. Bergheimer to the position of general superintendent in charge of all P-K plant operations.

Since P-K's establishment in 1880, primarily as a commercial hot water heater manufacturer, P-K has constantly expanded its line of equipment to include shell and tube heat exchangers, refrigeration and air conditioning equipment, blenders, mixers and various types of chemical and process vessels.

PRIOR TO JOINING P-K, Mr. Bergheimer served in the Army and was attached to the Office of Strategic Services from 1943 to 1946. After being discharged from the services, he entered Stevens Institute of Technology and in 1950 was graduated with a degree in mechanical engineering.

Mr. Bergheimer's first assignment at P-K was a year spent designing and cost-estimating in the heat exchanger division, under the supervision of Chief Engineer Charles E. Drake.

Mr. Bergheimer was then transferred to the shop for a year to study current manufacturing methods and in 1952 was promoted to P-K plant engineer. For the past year he has supervised the fabrication of a large number of coolant condensers for use by the Atomic Energy Commission.

CHARLES W. REID, former general superintendent, who has been employed by P-K for the past 35 years, has been instrumental in helping the firm gain its present diversification and manufacturing position. Mr. Reid has been appointed to work in an advisory and consulting capacity. He will also assist in research work on various matters concerning the shop, officials said.

Congressman Eberharter Changes Mind

ARLINGTON, VA. (AP) — Congressman Eberharter (D-Pa) waived his immunity to a traffic charge here yesterday but reversed himself after the judge told him he was guilty and spoke of a fine of $5 and costs.

Eberharter lives in Arlington County, Va., across the Potomac River from Washington.

He was charged June 30 with obstructing traffic. When Judge Paul D. Brown called the case in county court yesterday morning, Eberharter said he didn't want the charge dropped simply because he's a congressman. Members of Congress are immune from arrest while on their way to or from legislative sessions.

EBERHARTER SAID he wasn't guilty of any violation, that all he asked was to be treated with fairness and courtesy.

Policeman Leroy Rasmussen told the judge he was directing traffic at the scene of an accident at Columbia Pike and Washington Boulevard when Eberharter came along.

The policeman said the car screeched to a stop and he told the driver, "go ahead." Rasmussen said the driver retorted, "go ahead, yourself." Eberharter denied that he had stopped at the scene of the accident.

The policeman said he pursued the car and when he caught up the congressman refused to pull off the busy highway.

Andrew Darlak, 33, and John, 23, were in critical condition for five days following the accident. They suffered severe cuts and bruises and internal injuries. Andrew's wife, Doris, 33, remains in "fair" condition.

Former Local Resident Held On Charge

ROBERT R. Gower, 26, former Stroudsburg resident and one-time employe of a local hotel, was arrested on a charge of third-degree burglary by Binghamton, N. Y. police Saturday.

Police said that Gower was found in the home of his employer who was away from the city on vacation. Gower denied he had intended to steal anything from the house; told police he only wanted "to see how the boss lived."

According to Binghamton police records showed Gower arrived in Binghamton in May, 1953 from Stroudsburg where he was employed as a steward in the kitchen department of a hotel.

POLICE SAID they were called to the home of Harold G. Koach, assistant superintendent of the Binghamton City Hospital by a neighbor who said he had seen some one in the Koach home which he knew was unoccupied during Koach's vacation.

Police said they entered the home by forcing a window; found Gower behind a door in the bathroom on the second floor of the house.

A patrolman quoted Gower — who was holding a flashlight — as saying he had entered the Koach home only to see the furnishings of the home and observe other material possessions of Mr. and Mrs. Koach.

Police said Gower entered the home by forcing open a basement window. Gower was not accused of stealing anything from the home.

THE BURGLARY charge was lodged against him only because of a police allegation that the defendant "intended to steal from the house" according to Broome county, N. Y. assistant district attorney Frank J. Ondrusek.

Gower pleaded innocent to the third degree burglary charge. He was immediately suspended from his $3,300-a-year job as assistant purchasing agent at City Hospital. He went to work for the hospital on Jan. 11.

Prior to employment at the hospital he worked at the Arlington Hotel in Binghamton, police said.

Injunction Held Doubtful

EBENSBURG (AP) — Visiting Judge John J. Pentz said yesterday he doubted if 16 doctors could be legally prevented from resigning their posts at Miners Hospital in nearby Spangler as the result of a feud with State Sen. John J. Haluska, (D-Cambria).

Judge Pentz said, however, that his decision was not final and will be subject to change if facts should indicate otherwise.

The Clearfield County jurist made his remarks as an injunction hearing against the doctors got under way in Cambria County Common Pleas Court.

THE DOCTORS have told the hospital's board of trustees they will quit Thursday unless Haluska quits or is fired from the $600-a-month job as hospital administrator.

The trustees asked the court for an injunction to prevent the doctors from quitting.

Judge Pentz said he doubted if the court had the authority to issue an injunction against the doctors. He added, as of now it is his opinion that the court has the right to refuse a request for a compulsory order.

THE FORMAL hearing was ordered after the doctors, earlier yesterday filed an answer citing reasons why they should not be compelled to continue at their hospital posts.

The doctors said that public statements issued by Haluska made him "unfit to associate with." The feud between the doctors and Haluska has existed for several months.

The hearing was recessed until Wednesday.

RICHARD Todhunter of Barnesboro, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, was the only witness to testify. He denied the board had ever considered turning over the hospital's nurses home for use as a "cancer clinic" to be operated by Harry M. Hoxsey.

Hoxsey claims to have developed a medicine which is beneficial in the treatment of cancer. The American Medical Assn. says his treatment is worthless.

Haluska has also denied he wants to give the soon-to-be-abandoned nurses home to Hoxsey, but he says he is interested in having Hoxsey open a clinic in Cambria County.

Indian hostilities which led to Custer's last stand in 1876 resulted in part from Indian protests at movements of whites into the Black Hills in one of the last big gold rushes.

MOUNT POCONO — Borough police are investigating an alleged burglary at the Mount Pocono A and P supermarket.

According to Constable Ken Miller the store was entered through a back door "sometime Sunday night or Monday morning." Discovery of the entry was made by store employe Frank Hochrine, Tobyhanna on his arrival at work yesterday morning, Miller said.

No accurate estimate of goods stolen had been made yesterday, police said. Store officials were conducting an inventory to determine what was missing, Miller indicated.

Districts Undecided On Jointure

BANGOR — Holding the key to a potential five-district school jointure Lower Mount Bethel and Washington Township school board spokesmen said last night they were both "waiting" to see which turn the other took.

David Edinger, Washington spokesman said he felt his board would go along with a five-district jointure if Lower Mount Bethel would. Donald Creighton, Lower Mount Bethel, said his board would be willing to "explore the possibilities of a jointure" but that present finances made it impossible for the board to enter a building program.

Stanley Pensyl, chairman of the steering committee, set July 26 as the date for all boards to make commitments on their intentions.

AT A MEETING held last night —the latest in a series—for discussion of jointure, Everett Kent, Washington Township solicitor, was told that Ray Robinson, a State Department of Public Instruction official, had made the statement that the State would not approve a five-district jointure.

Kent said he would call Robinson today and check on whether the statement had been made.

Bayonne Man's Condition Good

A 29-YEAR-OLD Bayonne, N. J., man is reported in "good" condition at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg last night where he was taken Sunday after State police from Mount Pocono forced their way into a Swiftwater resort cabin and found him in a semi-conscious condition.

Police said they notified the parents of the man, Vincent Doherty, after finding him suffering from an apparent "drug intoxication." They said an empty bottle marked "pentobarbital" was found in the room. No prosecution is planned, police said.

Hague Gets Subpoenas

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—One-time Democratic boss Frank Hague was served with two subpoenas yesterday when he entered the city to attend the funeral of his nephew, former Mayor Frank Hague Eggers.

The first, presented to 78-year-old Hague just before the start of the funeral procession, touched off a near-riot. It ordered his appearance in a court suit brought by the city to recover three million dollars.

The second, demanding Hague's presence at a City Commission investigation July 21, was served as Hague stopped for a traffic light on his way home from the funeral.

SUMMONS SERVERS sought for months to hand Hague the legal papers to get him into court and before the investigating committee, which is probing city financial affairs during Hague's administration.

Hague, who was mayor of Jersey City for 17 years, Eggers, and John F. Malone, deputy mayor under Hague, are named in the first suit seeking to recover funds allegedly collected from municipal employes as campaign contributions over a number of years.

A 19-YEAR-OLD Poughkeepsie, N. Y., parole violator was returned to his home state yesterday after waiving extradition before Judge Fred W. Davis.

Businessmen Hear Address On Merchandising, Discuss Special Promotion, Thruway

OPERATION OF A retail store is "just common sense," Dick Edwards, noted Lansford merchant and former official of the National Retail Dry Good Association told 60 Stroudsburg Business Men's Association members last night.

Chief speaker at a very well attended meeting in the Wyckoff Tea Room, Mr. Edwards said college degrees are not necessary to operate a retail business, only common sense.

To the merchants generally he held that cooperation between stores and cooperative action in behalf of the community is a basic essential.

"You seem to have it here," he added. "But you must run your stores just like you did when you were fighting for it in its early stages."

THERE ARE merchants, he said, who seem to have money for everything, but not one penny for cooperative promotion.

"Don't hesitate to spend money for the cooperative promotion of your community," he advised. "Spend some on new and better lights, some paint and help the community to attract people."

Lansford, he said, has some 4,500 unemployed miners now, resulting from a decision of a coal company to close down mines because of continued loss.

"It's going to hurt," Mr. Edwards said, "and we don't know where it's going to end."

HE SAID the Sears Roebuck and Woolworth stores closed when the mines closed, and emphasized that while some retail merchants don't like chain stores "we hated to see them leave." "I'd love right now to place my store right between Wyckoff's and that great new Newberry store you have here," he said.

"Here," he said, "you have too much traffic and in Lansford right now we don't have enough".

Mr. Edwards outlined many promotions, including free bus service between his store and communities without bus service. Edwards proposed local merchants provide such free service between Stroudsburg and the Slate Belt area.

PRESIDENT Holt Wyckoff asked merchants to consider some special celebrating in connection with The Daily Record's Get Acquainted Edition to be issued Sept. 11. He said he will name a special committee to consider a proposal for a carnival sale with merchdandise displayed on the streets in carnival atmosphere.

Al Astheimer, chairman of Christmas lighting, said he and John Muller had conducted a survey which indicates lights can be extended to the state bridge. Last year they ran from Eighth to Fifth St. There will be larger Christmas trees and more lights on each tree on the brackets. Money for lights will be collected from merchants this month.

JACK KERLIN reviewed the entire bypass, traffic and parking situation from its inception last June in detail, including accounts of visits with Sect. of Highways Schmidt and Gov. Fine. He said Stroudsburg Council has been asked to provide off-street, all-day parking and is cooperating in this matter. Representing merchants, Mr. Kerlin made a special survey of property owners for council.

He emphasized that while some 16 organizations are against the Ninth St. bypass, they want a general survey to show where an adequate thruway will best serve the community and the entire Pocono Reigon. One request made is for adequate signs at the Water Gap Bridge traffic circle to guide traffic to Eastern Poconos and the upper Poconos, Mr. Kerlin said.

A recent letter to Schmidt requested information on how a Ninth St. bypass would be installed, but there has been no reply Mr. Kerlin said. Another letter will be sent to ask Schmidt for an early reply he said.

Eisenhowers To Attend Kin's Rites

STATE COLLEGE (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower will travel here by airplane and automobile today to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Mrs. Eisenhower, 49, wife of the president of the Pennsylvania State University, died here on Saturday. University officials said death was caused by a blood clot after she was on the road to recovery from virus pneumonia.

The President and first lady will leave Washington by plane, landing at Altoona, Pa., and go from there to State College by car.

A BRIEF CHURCH service will be held at noon at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. It will be conducted by Rev. Jones B. Shannon, St. Andrews' rector, and Rev. Luther H. Harshberger, University chaplain.

Burial will be in the Centre County Memorial Park, five miles east of the university.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower are expected at the campus home of Dr. Milton Eisenhower at about 11 a.m. They plan to return to the nation's capital immediately after the funeral.

Air Force Takes First Step In Ridding Service Of KP Duty By Hiring Work Done

CHICAGO (AP)—KP duty—the most universally cursed aspect of military service—may become a thing of the past.

That is, if an experiment to be tried at the Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla., proves successful.

The Air Force has signed a six months contract under which nationwide Food Service of Chicago will turn out the chow for some 5,000 airmen at Vance.

NATIONWIDE, which operates dining facilities in more than 200 industrial plants, schools and large office buildings plus the Senate Restaurant in Washington, will do it all. This means the hated potato peeling and pan washing, as well as cooking and serving.

If the Vance experiment—due to start July 21— works out as Nationwide says it will, the Air Force will consider similar contracts at other bases.

BEN REGAN, executive vice president of Nationwide, contends his firm can operate mess halls more cheaply than the military and at the same time, give armed forces morale a shot in the arm by eliminating kitchen police duty.

The armed forces have found dislike of KP to be a primary cause of AWOLS.

But Regan says his experiment is aimed at the "peacetime military".

NATIONWIDE'S mess service already is a going business in Canada, where it began as a test at two military bases two years ago and since has spread to nine more bases.

Regan estimates the commercial operation at these bases has effected a saving of "probably 20 to 25 per cent" for the Canadian government.

New Empire Box Ownership

Empire Box Corporation's Minisink Hill plant together with operations at Garfield, N. J. and South Bend, Ind., are now under the ownership of Benjamin Coates, real estate, oil, natural gas and mining operator.

Mr. Coates' first pronouncement that he planned no changes in management or policy at Minisink Hills and Garfield operations means that an employment factor of over 100 men at Minisink Hills will remain integrated in Monroe County's industrial economy.

Empire is one of the nation's largest suppliers of cartons for packaged goods. Since taking over the local plant production has increased from 30 to 100 tons or more a day. During the last war Empire achieved an enviable record of production for all branches of the armed services.

The Daily Record is happy to welcome the Coates ownership and extend every wish for success in the continued operation of all the plants.

ISlow Down and Live!

The scream of tearing steel followed after no measureable time lag by the tinkle of throat-slashing broken glass and the nutshell crunch of cracking skulls last year reduced more than 1,600 Pennsylvanians to statistics and kept the state's undertakers busier than they have any right to be.

It is futile to print statistics of traffic deaths. It means very little to any one to learn that 1,624 Pennsylvania motorists and pedestrians lost their lives on our streets and highways in 1953. To the casual—that is, one who has never been directly affected—reader, it would mean little to say that 1,624 Pennsylvanians died in a day, or in an hour! Numbers, as such, don't mean a thing.

But these people were not numbers. They were your family or your friend or your neighbor. Eleven of them, each one essential to the happiness and welfare of who knows how many others, screamed and bled and thrashed their lives out right here in Monroe County—virtually on your own front lawn.

And sadly, there was not a single solitary one of these deaths which was in any sense "necessary" or "unavoidable." Their causes were many: excessive speed, drunkenness, faulty auto mechanism, inattentiveness, unfamiliarity with roads, road-hoggishness, wrong side driving, failure to observe regulatory signs, and many, many more. In any event, each one could have been avoided.

Failure to heed SPEED LIMIT signs has been one of the paramount causes of deaths in Monroe County last year AND this year—with a total of NINE deaths registered to date and another six months to go.

To elaborate on just one of the other causes of highway accidents:

Last year in Pennsylvania, 99 persons died because they or the drivers of the cars in which they were riding failed to obey the simplest and most mandatory of our regulatory signs—the STOP sign. There were also some who died because some other driver failed to obey a stop sign.

The numbers who died because they failed to heed the SLOW signs or CURVE signs or CROSSROAD signs or SPEED LIMIT signs cannot even be estimated according to the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. It is sufficient to know that at or near the site of nearly every fatal accident there was a sign which, if observed and obeyed, would have prevented that accident.

The regulatory signs are purchased, installed and maintained by your county or state or municipality at your expense. They are ignored or disobeyed also at your expense.

Stevenson Tax Matter Is Under Official Security

Washington—A tax matter involving former Governor Adlai Stevenson is under official scrutiny.

The Internal Revenue Service is making an exhaustive examination of the tax aspects of that special fund which made headlines in the midst of the Illinoisan's 1952 presidential campaign.

Congressional leaders have gotten wind of this unannounced inquiry. They have ascertained the following:

The Democratic standard-bearer's personal taxes are not under fire.

No irregularities by anyone are charged. The question at stake is legitimate tax avoidance and not illegal tax evasion.

The "study," as it is privately described by Revenue officials, has been under way for several months. They vigorously deny it's an "investigation."

No "study" is being made of Vice-President Nixon's special fund that also created a sensation in the 1952 election battle.

The uproar over the Californian's fund led to the disclosure of Stevenson's. The two accounts were entirely different. Congressional inquirers have been told that's the reason why Nixon's is not being studied by the Revenue Service.

The Stevenson fund consisted primarily of contributions to his campaign committee when he ran for governor in 1948. After his election, the balance was used to supplement the salaries of a group of officials who, Stevenson explained, "made sacrifices to work for the state." He personally did not get any of this money.

The Nixon fund also consisted of political contributions. Similarly, none of the money passed through his hands. It was handled by a trustee who paid bills submitted to him by Nixon for printing, postage and other expenses while a member of Congress. All of the $18,168 was spent in behalf of Nixon.

The extra payments received by the Illinois officials ranged from $500 to $7,000. Some of them listed the amounts in their income returns but paid no taxes on the ground they were "gifts."

Reasons for the suspicious congressional interest in this tax "study" is a report that has been buzzing around the Capital for several weeks about a spectacular political bombshell that is to be exploded in the fall. According to this story, the Justice Department has obtained sealed indictments against a score of Democrats, some of them in Congress, and will announce this at the height of the election battle.

Inside Stuff—The Senate Judiciary Committee has accomplished one thing in connection with the stalled bill to legislate wiretapping evidence.

Although the Committee is still siting on the measure, which the House passed several months ago, an extensive record of unusual testimony has been compiled. Much of it deals with actual wiretapping operations: how and when to tap wires and other technical details.

The information was supplied by top experts in this field, among them William J. Meilin, the "dean of wiretappers." He told the committee, "I have tapped in excess of 60,000 wires in my 40 years' experience and have checked the telephones of at least two Presidents of the United States and a number of cabinet members." Other experts heard were Raymond Shindler, widely-known private detective, and Nahum Bernstein, New York attorney, who said he "wrote the so-called bible for police wiretapping and taught the subject for years."

Bernstein told the senators the following story of how Mellin trapped Dutch Schultz, the notorious gangster:

"Schultz knew that efforts were being made to get information about him by tapping his wires. He outsmarted these operations by making a tie-up with three men who worked for the telephone company. He paid them $150 a week each to keep a watch on his wires. But he made one fatal mistake. He assumed there wouldn't be any business on Sunday and he gave them that day off.

"That's how Bill Mellin got in his tap. Instead of tapping the wires at the bridgepoint, he did it at another place where he was able to cover it up with putty and hide it in the ground. Monday morning when the telephone men got back, they saw no evidence of tapping and assumed everything was all right. But Mellin's secret tap was in full operation and that's how Schultz was outtricked."

Ride 'em Cowboy—Maybe what the strife-torn Senate needs is more rodeos!

It took the subject of rodeos to bring about a unique scene of harmony in the embattled chamber.

Republicans, Democrats and Oregon's Independent Morse joined cordially in passing a provision to abolish the federal tax on rodeo tickets. Following are highlights of this remarkable incident:

"I am an ardent rodeo fan," Morse announced. "I can proudly claim that I have ridden in some rodeos, although only as a 'pick-up man.' There are various kinds of rodeos. The kind I'm interested in particularly are those put on by quasi-private organizations for charitable purposes."

"Does the Pendleton Roundup fall in that category?" asked Senator Herman Welker (R., Ida.).

"I think it does," replied Morse, "its proceeds go to good public causes."

"In my hometown of Custer," said Senator Francis Case (R., S. D.), "we have an annual Gold Discovery Days pageant. It's a community affair in which everyone joins with no thought of private profit."

"My hometown (Eugene) has a Pioneer Pageant that is a community event," said Morse.

"In my state," declared Senator Russell Long (D., La.), "we have a number of affairs like that to promote our livestock industry. It's a real handicap to them to have a tax on admission charges and it ought to be eliminated."

The Senate took that advice and wiped out the tax without a dissenting vote.

George Sokolsky Says...

Anti-Anti-Communist Hates Communists, But Also Hates Those Who Hate Commies

The Gray Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Connecticut, some time ago issued an advertisement in a number of publications showing a big, ferocious bear. The caption read: "The Truce of the Bear" and the following stanzas from Rudyard Kipling were quoted:

"When he stands up like a tired man, tottering near and near;
"When he stands up as pleading, in wavering, man-brute guise,
"When he veils the hate and cunning of his little swinish eyes;
"When he shows as seeking quarter, with paws like hands in prayer,
"That is the time of peril—the time of the Truce of the Bear!"

It was what is known as institutional advertising and expressed the views of Walter Ditmars, the president of the company. The advertisement was issued, as is customary, through an agency, Fresnh & Preston, Inc., and was printed in magazines. I do not know whether such advertisements sell the product of the company because no attempt to do that was made. Apparently Mr. Ditmars likes Kipling and dislikes Russia.

Thereupon the agency received a form letter from the "AAAA Interchange of Opinion on Objectionable Advertising." This letter contained the following criticism:

"Poor taste, timing and handling. Giving ammunition to unfriendly nation. Could be used against us."

Mind you, the advertisement consists of nothing but the ferocious bear and Kipling's lines. Kipling has not been poor taste, lo! these many years and it is a little difficult to grasp how the particular unfriendly nation could become more unfriendly than it has been since 1948.

So, James Selvage who runs this advertising agency inquired at first politely as to who made the criticism, so that he could argue the point with him. No soap! The critic had to remain incognito although the criticism might reflect on the company sponsoring the advertisement, the agency and possibly even on Rudyard Kipling who never liked the Russians anyhow, he being a British Imperialist in the days when the Empire stood firm at the Khyber Pass.

Now, to give "ammunition to unfriendly nation," is a dangerous thing to do; it might even lead to a Congressional investigation or to an FBI field check. In effect, the anonymous author of the accusation, whose name was safely guarded during months of correspondence, says that to run an advertisement against Russia is to give Russia ammunition which is like saying that we must all agree with Malenkov lest disagreement perhaps annoy that roundish gentleman and cause him to get very angry and call us names such as Durak! or Bourjouie! (I guarantee all editors and readers that these terms are not obscene, only offensive, and that they may be published without fear of arrest.)

The author of the protest may be an honest man; he may be well-intentioned. Certainly the organization which distributed the anonymous criticism is worthy and the idea of an interchange of ideas among the hucksters is of the best. We writers are partial to hucksters who provide the revenue on which we live. But I do not understand the criticism nor did Mr. Ditmars who wondered what the fellow meant, if he meant anything at all, or is he one of those who believes that anybody, Eisenhower, Truman, Herbert Hoover, Winston Churchill, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Haile Selassie and Farouk, recently of Egypt, may be torn apart, limb from limb, but do not—for Heaven's sake—do not ever say anything against Russia or the Communists, lest they get angry and throw a nyet at us.

There are such people, although their logic is not understandable. And that leads to a fantastic term which has come into our language, the anti-anti-Communist. (Please repeat anti twice, but not three times.) This is a person who dislikes Communists but even moreso dislikes anti-Communists. He puts them all in the same barrel, but the way it works out, he really helps the Communists by fighting their active enemies. They prefer to strangle Marxism by sweetness and light which Marx, Engels and Lenin debunked long ago.

The magazine, "Time," recently referred to me as the high-priest of anti-Communism which I took as a very great compliment, particularly from that publication. I suppose the anti-anti-Communists felt that "Time" had knocked me for a loop. Who knows the foibles of the human mind!

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

A nosey newspaper photographer—and although I am a newspaperman myself and always stand up for my own ilk. I must admit that some newspaper photographers ARE nosey — asked Ezra Benson, the Secretary of Agriculture the other day whether he knew how to milk a cow.

It happened while the Secretary was on an inspection trip to State College, Pennsylvania, and it also happened that some nice milking cows were right handy when the lens artist asked his question.

The Secretary did not answer the camera man right away. Instead, he walked over to the first likely looking cow, seized its udder, gave it an expert pull and squirted the newsman right smack in the eye, a distance of about 15 feet.

Now this is not intended as a lecture on agriculture or on dairying.

It is supposed to indicate that every man should be an expert at his business.

It seems, of course, that bright news photographer should have familiarized himself with Secretary Benson's history before he asked him such a silly question.

I think that a Secretary of Agriculture, who does not even know how to milk a cow, wouldn't be very apt to know very much about anything concerning agriculture. Although I am quite sure that we HAVE had agriculture secretaries who didn't know the first thing about any part of the cow from front end to very tail. Otherwise, perhaps the farm problem wouldn't be in the mess from which Benson is trying to disentangle it.

There used to be an idea in government that the less a man knew about a certain department or a certain activity, the better he was qualified to be appointed to a big post in it.

Perhaps, the thought was that if he didn't know anything about what he was doing he probably wouldn't do anything about it at all—and that was about all that was expected from him.

However, things have changed since the good old days of "promise everything and do nothing."

I have talked to many a 16 and 18-year-old, who is as much of an expert as the professional politicians of a few years ago used to be.

Fortunately we owe a lot to our schools, which have done a really wonderful job in political education of the young.

I predict that the politicians of a few years hence will not only make promises of performance, they will have to keep them.

President Eisenhower has made a good start in appointing men to high offices who actually KNOW what they are talking about and whose advice is listened to with respect.

I am not now saying whether Eisenhower is a good president or not. We will all have our chance to decide that a couple of years from now.

But I do know this. If the first place the Augean stable already looks a darn sight cleaner than it did in 1953. And there seems to be a much purer air in our land than there was when a certain other President played the "Missouri Waltz" for us as his farewell. Don't you feel that you can actually SMELL that purer air—as if you had come out of a tunnel into a mountain? And I think Secretary Benson's milk squirt is another example of what is going on.

The Once Over

A Speech on Red China

A suggested speech for our side on the day when Red China comes up for admittance to the United Nations:

"Fellow Delegates: Pardon any resemblances to diplomatic or restrained language on this issue. This is going to be tough talk, smack on the line, straight down the alley, take it or leave it. You are about to vote on the question of Red China and I say to you that if she belongs in the U. N. so does Lizzie Borden, Jack the Ripper, the man-eating shark and the wolf that ate grandma. Roll out the mat for her present government and you roll it out for the Killer Whale, the giant cobra, the defective buzzsaw, the runaway truck, the ghost of Billy the Kid and the Black Widow Spider!

"China is a great country. Uncle Sam was its best friend through generations. Its people have, for thousands of years, been noted for patience, high integrity, respect for civilized traditions and for deep spiritual instincts. But this is not the China asking a seat here today any more than Mr. Hyde on the loose is the kindly Dr. Jekyll at his best. This is a China that rules by force and purge and interment camp. This is the China that is as much like the China of tradition as the James Boys are like Whistler's Mother. This is the China that pitched in to kill more than 40,000 American boys in Korea and which leers at the free world and double-crosses Uncle Sam at every turn. Gentlemen, I ask you, is this U. N. a palace of peace or the funny house at Coney Island? Are we meeting in a world organization for peace or on a picnic ground of the 'Nobody-Is-Right-But-Moscow-and-Pieping' Clubs?

"Give Red China a key to this building and you are putting a hammer and sickle over the entrance, planting poppy seeds in the flower boxes, dedicating the cocktail lounge as a chop suey joint and giving General May the right to appoint the elevator operators and serve birds'-nest soup during debates. Hand a membership card to Chou En-lai entitling him to a good view of the East River and you might as well vote that all the ushers and interpreters be recruited from the North Korean Panmunjom truce delegation. Admit Red China to this organization and you might as well issue an engraved invitation to Red Chinese generals to open all meetings with bugle calls and drum beatings. Gentlemen, I ask you the simple question: are you voting today for the highest aims of the United Nations as an instrument of peace or are you voting for international runarounds, marathon dancing and life in dark alleys?

"Are we mice or men? And, what is more important, do we hope to be effective as either? Boys and girls, I ask you was this skyscraper erected to develop noble resolves by peace-loving nations or as a rehearsal hall for Martin and Lewis, and the Four Ritz Brothers? Are we here in our right minds or is our greatest need a psychiatrist's couch on every floor. Gentlemen, be yourselves, with or without spirits of ammonia! And remember this is an edifice, not a squirrel cage, a resort for artful dodgers or a playground for weird thinkers. I thank you, and hope my thanks are not premature."

A ruling that bottled Martini cocktails be limited to three parts gin to one vermouth has been revised to permit five parts gin . . . The effect on house parties can be pretty devastating and we think it means a business boom for the men to replace broken windows, put the legs back on divans and refinish the piano . . . "Have 300 books on all subjects; will swop for firearms."—Advertisement in Yankee Magazine . . . That's what we call nursing a deep and violent hatred for a good many authors.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

This is the week when picincs and hot dogs roasts really start blooming on every lake front and back yard. The only trouble being that they don't make much news. Everybody eats to the bursting point, laughs until they ache, and talks till their tongues get tired, but it still isn't news.

Some of the pleasantest things aren't news, as a matter of fact. Take an ice cream festival—one sentence tells the story in print. But it would take a volume to tell all the funny things which happen in the midst thereof.

Especially when its sponsored by a youth fellowship. If there's anything that ten-to-twelvers like to do it's wait on table—outside of their own home, of course. So you're liable to be overwhelmed with waitresses. At one time, the other night on the East Stroudsburg Methodist side lawn, we had four glasses of water all at once, and five waitresses—all with pencils poised.

Or take the firemen's carnivals in every back yard. How many volumes could those aprons tell if they could report on the conversations that went on over them through the winter evenings?

There's a lot of work in these summer benefits designed to keep some of the city dollars in local projects, but city folk never know how much fun us local yokels have with it all.

Youth Group Finds Friends, Living History In England

Paris, France, July 5, 1954:

Our Caravan is in Paris for a few days. While I have some time I will tell you the highlights of our stay in England.

We stayed at the Archway Central Methodist Church for six days where we heard lectures on England and Greece and saw the sights of London.

Ottaway

On the first night in London, Mr. and Mrs. Lilly of the Archway Church put on a party for their youth group and us visiting Americans. We soon found that the English kids of our age were not reserved and cold. They were very friendly.

Kay Ridout led a "Bunny Hop" dance and we all had a great time. We liked London and the British from the first.

An English boy, Peter Frayne, showed us around London. We saw the important spots such as St. Paul's Cathedral, the Royal Palace, the Tower of London, Big Ben and John Wesley's Chapel. Our Methodist religion was founded there by John Wesley.

John Jones, an Australian student at Oxford, stayed with us during the week. He was in New York State around Morris, New York last summer.

Our American dollar went a long way in England. I had one full lunch for 3 shillings, or 42c. We all had a wonderful time learning to use English currency.

Each morning at 11:30, Rev. Blinco of Archway gave us a devotional period in the church chapel. His talks amout the universal God and Christian friendship were meaningful to us as Americans far away from home.

On Sunday, Rev. Little preached at Archway in the morning and Rev. Capitanios preached at the Albany Mission nearby.

Each of us had Sunday dinner in an English home. Phyllis Taub and I went to Ann Nelson's home. She is a girl of seventeen with a brother 10 years old named Ian.

Mr. Nelson told us how the Queen held the country together in loyalty to herself. The age old tradition and pagentry of England is apparent everywhere.

The phrase, "Gentlemen, you are standing on history" applies to every part of British soil.

We all went to a Tuesday night Social at Hoxton Mission in the poor section of London. The boys there told me all about Frankie Laine and the movie stars they knew.

Jeff Stewart, an English boy who, at 17, was working to be a blacksmith, took us to a cricket game and to the public baths. We all needed the cleaning very much after four days.

Some of my own general impressions of the English are these:

They are hardy people; they are jolly; they are hard working people because of the hardships of war; last and most important is the fact that they are very much like us Americans. We have a strong tie with the English people.

The one person we heard the most about while we were in London was Billy Graham. He has converted thousands of people in England.

Rev. Blinco of Archway called his accomplishments in England "the greatest event of the 20th Century." This is no joke.

Billy Graham has made a great impression on the British people.

Wherever we went among the British, we found friends. Being far away from home and finding friends gave new meaning to the words "Christian Youth Fellowship!"

Next letter—Paris! !

Fine Foresees Reopening Of Valley Mines

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania predicted yesterday that mining would be resumed "within a reasonable period" in his state's Panther Valley coal fields, shut down since May.

The Republican governor told a newsman at the National Governors' Conference he expected the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. "will probably lease to individual optrators certain of their collieries in Panther Valley."

Fine said he had no indications from the company itself that it planned to lease the collieries. But he added that it "seems to be the logical course of events."

THE GOVERNOR said he would confer with company officials shortly after his return to Pennsylvania.

Earlier Fine presided at a meeting of the Governors Fuel Conference, where chief executives of nine coal-producing states called upon Congress to clamp strict curbs on imports of residuel oil to relieve widespread unemployment in the nation's coal fields.

The nine governors also asked for a revival of a congressional investigation into plans for operating the fuel industry in wartime.

Jane Withers Wins Divorce, $1 Million

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. (AP)—Jane Withers, the former child actress, won a divorce and a million dollar property settlement yesterday on testimony her Texas oilman husband "drank and gambled excessively."

The 28-year-old Miss Withers, occasionally breaking into tears, said of her life with William P. Moss Jr., 33:

"He often embarassed me in public. Once, in a Midland, Tex., night club, he threw his shoes on the dance floor. Then he told me he didn't love me, and that was the end."

Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch approved a property settlement which provides for: $1,000 a month alimony and support for the couple's three children; a $100,000 trust fund, guaranteed by a $100,000 insurance policy; a $24,000 college education insurance policy for the children; half of community property, including oil lands valued at about $500,000.

Miss Withers was granted custody of the children.

The couple married in 1947 and separated April 15, 1953.

West Germans Hail Visit By Princess

BONN, GERMANY (AP) — Britain's Margaret charmed West Germans yesterday as she paid the first official call since 1912 by a member of the British ruling house on a German head of state.

An estimated 15,000 people turned out to cheer the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II as she drove through the streets of the small West German capital to lunch with President Theodor Heuss. Bad visibility and high wind caused cancellation of a planned fly-past of British jet planes and a helicopter trip by the Princess.

"Schau, Wie Schoen" (look, how beautiful), onlookers exclaimed when they saw the Princess. Obviously much pleased by her brief visit, the Germans made a great fuss over her in the 3½ hours she was in Bonn.

The Princess sat between 70-year-old Heuss and 78-year-old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at the luncheon and chatted with them through an interpreter.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Don't look for easy-going today. Stellar aspects indicate some financial rearrangements in early hours. In personal affairs you will find less contention if you are amenable, cooperative.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Back your convictions with deeds. Good temper coupled with mild manners will act as a slide-rule to success today. Have respect for others' intelligence and you will be better able to recognize their aims.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—A day for caution—but not worry. Achievement is possible for those who can follow through with a goodly amount of finesse, strategy. Care in financial matters.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer)—Move along thoughtfully and efficiently. Don't stint where unwise. Concentrate on the good and productive, and be careful not to appear brusque.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—This could be a day at the end of which you might say, "well, I did it again!" There are generous configurations but you may, nevertheless, have to put forth harder, more concerted effort. Willingness does matter.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Where the interests of family and loved ones are concerned, be much more thoughtful in details; also protect valuables, property, reputation. Advancement likeliest in familiar activities, your job.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—A mildly auspicious day for you who are sincere and sufficiently studious. You may be annoyed by outside interference. Do not let it influence your better judgment. Avoid being irritated.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Much more stimulating than you may think at first—particularly for property, business or professional matters. Don't permit an uneven disposition to dominate your better judgment.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Fine opportunities may be sidetracked because of foolishness, pettiness, and other personality quirks. Be modest—not prudish; maintain a happy-medium level in all things.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Some upsetting tendencies likely but, with sensible and adroit management, you should be able to turn in satisfactory results. Romance, marriage favored.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—The influences are not entirely helpful, but that should really not affect your results if you are on the job, ready to dig in and double efforts.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Your planet is in singularly auspicious aspect today but the day will not hum with capable doings if your will power is lagging. Be advised against extremes, non-essentials, brooding.

YOU BORN TODAY were born under the Sign Cancer and your special planet, the Moon, indicates changeability and sensitiveness. Be aware that your tenacity, versatile nature and industrious leanings could carry you far toward the better things of life. You possess dramatic and musical talents. You yearn for sympathy and kindness; have an excellent memory. With your fine gifts you can carve a prominent niche in this world if you will be philosophical about hurts, smile at setbacks, and trust in God.

GM, Journal End Squabble Over Story

NEW YORK (AP) — The huge General Motors Corp. and the Wall Street Journal were smoking the peace pipe yesterday over their battle which led to a cut-off by GM of its $250,000 yearly advertising in the newspaper.

The squabble began as the result of a May 28 story in the business daily showing drawings of GM's 1955 Chevrolet as well as pictures of the 1955 Ford and Dodge.

The drawings showed radical changes in body design. The windshield, front grille and headlamps of the '55 Chevvy were revamped to more raking styling.

GM REACTED violently. On June 18 Bernard Kilgore, president and publisher of the Journal, said GM had apparently withdrawn all its advertising which runs to more than $250,000 a year.

In addition, the four-billion-dollar asset corporation stopped sending the Journal its press releases. Its officials would have no truck with Journal newsmen.

Yesterday Kilgore disclosed that GM resumed sending news releases to the Journal three weeks ago and that Journal reporters are no longer on the black list for GM executives.

The newspaper published an exchange of letters between Kilgore and Harlow H. Curtice, president of GM, showing that, apparently an understanding was in the works.

THE LETERS said nothing about a resumption of advertising, however, and neither side would comment on that.

At the time GM broke relations with the Journal, a spokesman for the corporation said it was obvious that a sketch of a new model car, published months in advance, would adversely affect demand for the current model. It would also disclose trade secrets to business competitors, he said.

Why Chiropractic?

By Dr. Elwood S. Field

"Arthritis," sometimes called Articular Rheumatism, is an inflamation of the joints. The condition is characterized by changes in cartilaginous and synovial membrances and deformity of bone, which later may become nodular and ankylosed.

This condition is caused by a disturbance in the calorific (heat) function, over nerve fibers supplying the parts affected, combined with subnormal activity in organs of elimination, especially the kidneys.

The chiropractic approach in arthritis is to locate the cause of malexpression of normal calorific nerve impulses. The cause of this irritation is frequently found in the spinal cord. Cord tension or pressure here also usually affects the kidneys. The doctor of chiropractic aids in the restoration of normal transmission of nerve energy to the nerves supplying affected areas and the body responds with normal function.

Your chiropractor with his specialized training and scientific equipment can locate and remove the interference to the normal amount of nerve force flow between brain and inflamed areas.

Save 160 Gallons Of Milk Per Calf

Yessir, you may actually save 160 gallons of milk with every calf you raise on Calf Startena instead of whole milk. You can count on better growth, less scours, and heifers big enough to breed when 15-16 months old, when the Purina Calf program is followed.

Many dairymen in this area report calves fed Calf Startena are weighing 50-60 lbs. more at 4 months than the standard used by Morrison.

More than 1,000 calves have been raised on this program at the Purina Research Farm. Highest death loss any year was two calves!

You May Save A Bushel Of Grain By Spending A Dime

Know how much more corn a wormy pig eats before he's a 200 pounder? It averages 1 to 1½ bushels per pig. Wormy pigs don't usually look sick. But why take a chance when worming with Pigtab Granules is so easy. Just mix Pigtab Granules with a little feed, and at a cost of about one dime. Do it when pigs are about 12 weeks old.

We are looking forward to a visit from you. If there is any way we can help with your livestock or poultry feeding or management problems, remember we are here to serve you.

Lindy Urges Huge U. S. Air Force

NEW YORK (AP) — Brig. Gen. Charles A. Lindbergh says America's security hinges on a "prodigious" air force with "the indestructible power to destroy."

Writing in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, the "Lone Eagle" says:

"It is inevitable that our primary attention be shifted from the advantages of progress to the essentials of survival . . .

"IT IS NO longer a question of what we can afford on previous standards of life, but of what we must do and how we must live in order to exist and maintain our independence as a nation . . .

"The American policy of non-aggression requires a military position of such magnitude that if our enemies should strike us by surprise, annihilating hundreds of our bases and dozens of our cities, we can still exceed their power.

"THIS MEANS a prodigious air force, a strong army, a strong navy and strong allies . . . .

"It is a formidable task, extending into the future as far as we can see . . . . There is no longer such a thing as adequate defense. As long as a dangerous enemy exists, our security will live in the indestructible power to destroy."

Lindbergh writes that "an inexpugnable means of retaliation" involves a fleet of the most modern aircraft capable of being airborne with atom bombs minutes after an alarm is sounded.

THE PLANES "must be scattered over hundreds of bases, over too many for an enemy to paralyze with a single blow," he says.

Lindbergh lists other elements of the security program as research, development and industrial-decentralization programs, and emphasis on the "human element" in our military.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stan Dudas, colorful assistant golf pro at Shawnee-on-Delaware, departed for points west and two golf tournaments on Sunday. Stan will play in the National PGA tournament beginning Tuesday, July 27, following a crack at the Carling Open in Cleveland beginning Thursday and ending Sunday. The Carling grind is a $25,000 event. The National PGA is slated to be played in St. Paul this year.

Dudas will be back at his Shawnee post in plenty of time to take part in the anxiously awaited Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show to be staged at Memorial Stadium on Sunday, August 15. This show, featuring the famed Shawnee "The Swings The Thing" golf show, Jim Braddock, Tommy Loughren and a host of screen and stage stars, is being held to raise $15,000 for the Varsity "E" Club. The money in turn will be used to construct a permanent lighting system at Memorial Stadium.

Speaking of golf brings to mind the fact that Jim Noble, not yet 17, made them blink during a Pocono Manor-Northampton team golf match on the former's course on Saturday. Jim began the back nine with a bird on the 10th hole, parred the 11th, birdied 12 and 13 and eagled the par five 14th. Noble, one of the top young golfers in the nation, had troubles elsewhere but still managed to finish with a 72, one stroke under par.

Harry Obitz, head golf pro at Shawnee and one of the moving forces behind the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities, is scheduled to play golf with the famed Tommy Armour at Blind Brook Country Club, New York, on Thursday. Members of the Bangor Little League witnessed the Brooklyn-Philadelphia baseball game in Ebbets field last Saturday with all expenses covered by the Little League.

The poles for the Memorial Stadium lighting system haven't arrived as yet, but are expected most any day. Construction of the lights will begin immediately after the poles are delivered. There isn't any better food in the world than that served at Harry's Farm, where some of the top notch fighters in the business, including Nino Valdes, have been training in recent months. You can take this scribe's word for that fact. Valdes leaves for New York this afternoon. He meets Hurricane Tommy Jackson in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Lee Waltz, an announcer at radio station WVPO, is scheduled to enter the disc jockey stock car race at Nazareth in the very near future. Youngsters of the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Littles will have the thrill of their young lives today when they hear Joe E. Brown speak at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Brown, who endeared himself to every serviceman in the South Pacific during World War II, has a way with youngsters that is second to none in show business. Brown is now appearing in "The Show Off" at Pocono Playhouse.

A meeting of the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities ticket committee will take place at East Stroudsburg High school today at 7:30 p.m. It is being held to check on the sale of tickets thus far in the young campaign. Paul Bartholomew is in charge of the widespread ticket setup. Al Smith, assistant golf pro at Pocono Manor, plans a week's vacation at the shore this week. Al is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and of Tobyhanna Township High school.

Norman Camp, once a pitcher with the Bloomingdale, N. J. entry in the now defunct North Atlantic League, is currently sporting a record of nine victories and four setbacks for Tulsa, of the class "AA" Texas League. Good defensive plays reportedly featured most of the Pocono Mountains League baseball games over the weekend.

West End A. C. Plans Picnic

Effort—West End A. C., an entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, held a monthly meeting here at the Pohopoko Hotel last night and made plans for a picnic on Saturday, July 24.

Attractions

The picnic, to be held at the West End Fair grounds, will feature cake walks, games and music by the Valley Rangers.

All-Stars To Practice On Two Days

Security Trust finished in championship form last night to score an 8-4 victory over the Veterans of Foreign Wars and improve its first place standings in the Stroudsburg Little League. The game took place on the circuit's official field.

The Vets held a 3-2 advantage entering the fifth frame, when the Security Trust power broke loose for four runs in the fifth frame and two in the sixth. The Vets completed the scoring with one run in the bottom of the fifth.

Sam Everitt, co-manager of the Stroudsburg Little League team that will take part in the district playoffs beginning next Monday, released names of those on the All-Star roster last night.

The list includes Billy Schoonover and Ronald Everett, both of Security Trust; Bob Werkheiser, Penn-Stroud; Karl Kohl, Martin Cracolici, and Barry Hubert, Colonial Diner; Dick Cramsey and Tod Williams, Peoples Coal; Douglas Albertson and Frank Scagliatti, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Ernest Kemmerer, John Carson, Ronald Bergman and Ed Coslar, all of the First Stroudsburg National Bank.

Everitt, pilot of Peoples Coal, and Danny Warner, field general of Colonial Diner, will share the responsibility of leading the Stroudsburg All-Star team against the Pocono Little League club next Monday.

The game will be played on the Stroudsburg field, at 6 p.m.

Everitt announced last night no regularly scheduled games would be played Thursday and Friday. The All-Stars will practice at 10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. on both sides.

Peoples Coal and Security Trust are scheduled to meet on the same field today, at 6:15 p.m.

Patterson Stops Royer

New York (AP)—Floyd Patterson, former Olympic middleweight champion, stopped Jacques Royer of France last night by a technical knockout when the latter was not permitted to come out for the eighth and final round because of a badly cut right eye at St. Nicholas Arena.

Royer, who weighed 166 to Patterson's 164¾, was outclassed through most of the fight. He suffered cuts over the left eye and the top of his forehead.

No Defense

The Frenchman seemed to have no defense against Patterson's rights to the head. As early as the first round Royer was cut over his left eye.

In this session, Patterson, in spite of inflicting a decisive beating to Royer, was caught with a left hook to the body and knocked down for a count of six before the bell ended the round.

Practice Session Set

Tannersville — Practice for the Little League and Babe Ruth League teams in this area will be held here on the Pocono High school field today at 6:30 p.m.

Dudas Wins Golf Tournament

The colorful Dudas toured the 18-hole layout in 65, seven under par. He covered the front nine in 33 and came home in 32.

Dudas played a steady game over the 6,120-yard layout and collected $300 for his labors.

Henry Williams, Berkleigh Country Club, was second with 67. John Weitzel, Hershey, was third with 68 and Bill Moran, of Irwin Country Club, finished fourth.

Al Nelson, another assistant at Shawnee, finished in a three-way tie for fifth place with a 73, or one over par score.

Veteran Comedian To Address Little League Stars Today

Joe E. Brown, famed stage and screen comedian, will speak to a combined attendance of boys from the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues at the Penn-Stroud Hotel today, 12:30.

Players of the two leagues have been invited to dinner as the guest of Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud.

Brown, famous for his large mouth and wailing voice, will speak at the Penn-Stroud Hotel through the cooperation of the Pocono Playhouse where he is appearing in "The Show Off" this week.

The well known comedian has been a terrific hit on both the stage and screen for many years and was an outstanding success while entertaining servicemen in the South Pacific during World War II.

Great Performance

Brown will always be remembered for his role in "Alibi Ike" one of the most entertaining baseball movies ever filmed.

Joe was a member of the New York Yankees' broadcasting staff last season.

Each of the players is to attend the banquet in uniform.

Dr. Evan C. Reese and T. Manning "Cap" Curtis,—presidents of the East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg Little Leagues respectively, and one manager of each team will also attend the banquet.

Softball Loop Changes Plans

Plans announced yesterday for the second annual Monroe County Softball League Tournament were scrapped last night, an announcement by Jack Mullins, circuit president, revealed.

Another meeting will be held Thursday, at Mullins' home, 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg, to plan further for the tournament.

Reason

The change in plans was made necessary due to a misunderstanding concerning plans involving at least two teams.

As of late last night at least seven and possibly eight entries are in line for the tournament which begins next Monday.

Dodgers Ship Kress

Brooklyn (AP) — Infielder Charley Kress, released yesterday to make room for Sandy Amoros on the Brooklyn Dodgers' roster, will join the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

White Sox Option Hurler

Chicago (AP) — The White Sox yesterday sent pitcher Mike Fornieles to Charleston, W. Va., of the American Association on option.

Barrett Lions Take Measure Of Rotary, 11-6

Mountainhome — Barrett Lions erupted for nine runs in the second inning here at Siglin field last night and then coasted to an 11-6 victory over Barrett Rotary in a Pocono Little League game.

The highlight of the nine-run inning was a towering home run by Carl O'Merle with one mate on base.

Otherwise the contest featured the fine pitching of Bradley Oliver who limited Rotary to four hits and retired 13 batters on strikes. He also issued nine bases on balls.

Leo Smith pitched the route for Rotary, but was hampered throughout the contest by six errors by his supporting case.

Major Leaguers Form Association

Cleveland (AP) — Big league baseball players yesterday organized formally into a group known as the Major League Baseball Players' Association and retained a lawyer at a reported fixed salary of $30,000 annually.

Constitution

The player representatives from the American and National Leagues' 16 clubs announced, after a three and one-half hour meeting, they had adopted by-laws and a constitution for the new group.

J. Norman Lewis of New York, who had been representing the players, was given the formal blessing by the players as their attorney.

Pocono Lions Triumph Over Mount Pocono

Pocono Pines — Pocono Lions scored two runs in the sixth and final inning, after two batters had been retired, to earn an 11-9 verdict over Mount Pocono Rotary in a Pocono Little League game played here last night.

The victory enabled Pocono Lions to tie the Mount Pocono contingent for first place in the standings.

Only the third inning failed to produce at least one run in the ball game. Mount Pocono's big frame was a four-run outburst in the fourth, while Pocono Lions did the bulk of their damage by picking up five markers in the second.

Errors Hurt

Pocono Lions held a 19-7 edge in hits, but Mount Pocono took advantage of five errors by the Lions to remain in the thick of the battle. Lou Kinney homered in a losing cause.

The Pocono Little League will play no more games until after its playoff contest with Stroudsburg Little League, at Stroudsburg, next Monday.

Campy's Hands Passes Examination

Brooklyn (AP)—There is no permanent damage to catcher Roy Campanella's left hand and the Brooklyn Dodgers star will play in today's All-Star game in Cleveland, it was announced after an examination by Dr. Herbert Feete here yesterday.

Fear

Campanella, who underwent an operation on his wrist by Dr. Feete on May 4, had complained of growing numbness in his little and ring fingers and several days ago expressed fear his playing days were nearing an end.

Kulp's Club Blasts Ronson In Softball

Kulp's Foundry went on a hitting spree at Gordon Giffels field last night to earn a one-sided 28-6 victory over Ronson IAM in a Monroe County Softball League game played under the lights.

The Foundrymen broke out in one of their most severe scoring rashes of the current campaign and plated 13 runs in the fourth inning and eight in the sixth frame.

Kulp's clubbers opened hostilities with four counters in the first inning and three in the second.

Bob Fritz pounded the only run of the game in the final inning.

Eagles Fly Over Keiper's Laundry, 13-4

A 13-4 verdict over Keiper's Laundry last night enabled the Eagles to pull into a first place tie with Jack's Market in the Monroe County Softball League pennant race. The twilight encounter was played at Stroudsburg Playground.

The Eagles scored in every inning to learn the victory, beginning with two in the first inning and finishing the offense with a single counter in the home half of the sixth.

Winner

Gail Fegley was touched for nine hits, but the veteran right hander was too tough in the clutch for the Laundrymen.

Today's schedule pits Worthington Mower against Jack's Market, at Stroudsburg Playground, while Al Besecker's Diner and Empire Box meet at Gordon Giffels field. The Playground tussle begins at 6:30 p. m. and the Giffels field outing immediately after the final twilight out.

Ford To Face Roberts In All-Star Tilt

By Jack Hand

Cleveland (AP) — "Whitey" Ford, 25-year-old New York Yankee lefthander, is Manager Casey Stengel's surprise pitching choice to start against Philadelphia's Robin Roberts in today's 21st All-Star baseball game at Municipal Stadium.

Seeking to break a four-game American League losing streak, Stengel drew on his own staff to face the favored National Leaguers who pack three lefthanded sluggers—Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski, Brooklyn's "Duke" Snider and St. Louis' Stan Musial — in their starting lineup.

With a break from the weatherman who predicts a partly cloudy day with the thermometer soaring to the middle 90s, the All-Star attendance record of 69,-812, set at Cleveland in 1935, might be broken.

More conservative estimates call for about 65,000 loyal souls, despite Cleveland's "lost weekend" in Chicago.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EDT) with network radio Mutual and television NBC and Mutual coverage. In case of rain, the game will be played at 8 p.m. (EDT) tonight. If the weather should force other postponements, Commissioner Ford Frick has set aside 11 a.m., 2 p.m. or 8 p.m. (all EDT) Wednesday.

The game receipts plus the $110,000 radio-TV money go into the central fund out of which the player pensions are paid.

Although the Americans still hold a 12-8 edge in the series, the Nationals' home run power makes Manager Walter Alston's team an eight to five choice.

Both clubs are in tough shape for pitching after Sunday's heavy doubleheader firing and injuries that cost the Americans the services of New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia, two of the very best.

Stengel admits he planned to use Garcia until he got word Sunday that he was unable to pitch for his own team against the White Sox. He also expected to use Chicago's Virgil Trucks but may not work him because he pitched a tiring nine-inning game Sunday.

"I wanted a lefty to get after their lefthanders," Stengel said, explaining his choice of Ford who has been erratic in compiling a spotty 7-6 record. Ford, however, threw a strong game against Boston last week and looked so good in relief at Washington Saturday night that the Senators' third baseman, Eddie Yost, said "If he throws like that nobody ever will hit him."

Alston, who got the job as a freshman manager because Brooklyn dropped Chuck Dressen the '53 pennant winner, followed the book in naming Roberts (11-8), a 27-year-old righthander who started three of the last four National League victories since 1950. No club, incidentally, ever has won five in a row. The Americans copped four straight from 1946 through 1949 and then the Nationals took charge.

Stengel won't name a second or third pitcher until today. From his conversation, you get the idea he is thinking of Washington's Bob Porterfield or Chicago's Sandy Consuegra (Garcia's replacement for the middle three. That would give him well-rested Bob Keegan of Chicago or Dean Stone of Washington, his other lefty, to finish up. "Casey" pointed out that the last pitcher could possibly work more than the maximum three innings in case it should go into extra innings.

Stengel also will have available Baltimore's Bob Turley, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Trucks, all of whom pitched Sunday.

After Roberts, Alston is undecided. He probably will shift to a lefthander, Johnny Antonelli of New York, for the middle three. That would leave lefthander Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and righthanders Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Marv Grissom of New York and Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Jim Wilson. Five of the Nationals' seven pitchers worked Sunday, Spahn pitched Saturday and Antonelli Friday.

The problem of "where to play Willie Mays" will face Alston after three innings. He said he would remove Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn from leftfield after three. He might shift Snider to rigat and play Musial in left, leaving centerfield open for the sensational New York outfielder who leads both majors — and "Babe" Ruth's record pace—with 31 home runs. Or he might play Mays in left.

A's Add To List Of Troubles

Philadelphia (AP)—The fortunes of the Philadelphia Athletics are at rock bottom today with a financial crisis growing worse, a pitching staff in a state of collapse and finally the loss by injury of one of the most potent batsmen.

The payoff came Sunday in a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox. The visitors trounced the A's 18-0 and 11-1 at Connie Mack Stadium but the real woe was the loss of slugging outfielder Gus Zernial who suffered a fractured left collarbone chasing a fly. He will be lost to the team for at least six weeks.

Statement

Manager Eddie Joost said Zernial's injury was an "unfortunate thing." The big leftfielder tripped while making a diving stab at a fly off the bat of Billy Consolo which went for a double.

Joost said the team experienced some "bad pitching" Sunday and "when you've got a club that should hit and doesn't, you're in bad shape if you don't get the pitching." The double loss dropped the A's to within a half-game of last place Baltimore.

Joost said he felt the absence of pitcher Bobby Shantz had a "great deal" to do with the team's poor showing this year. The ace left-hander suffered a recurrence of an arm injury the first game of the season and has been out of the lineup since.

Shantz was a great morale lifter, the first-year manager said.

"If we lost three games, we had someone to stop 'em," he said.

The A's yesterday sent Bob Trice to their Ottawa farm club in the International League along with Ossie Van Brabant and brought up lefty Johnny Gray and righthander Charley Bishop.

RILEY

Sports Editor

Stan Dudas, colorful assistant golf pro at Shawnee-on-Delaware, departed for points west and two golf tournaments on Sunday. Stan will play in the National PGA tournament beginning Tuesday, July 27, following a crack at the Carling Open in Cleveland beginning Thursday and ending Sunday. The Carling grind is a $25,000 event. The National PGA is slated to be played in St. Paul this year.

Dudas will be back at his Shawnee post in plenty of time to take part in the anxiously awaited Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show to be staged at Memorial Stadium on Sunday, August 15. This show, featuring the famed Shawnee "The Swings The Thing" golf show, Jim Braddock, Tommy Loughren and a host of screen and stage stars, is being held to raise $15,000 for the Varsity "E" Club. The money in turn will be used to construct a permanent lighting system at Memorial Stadium.

Speaking of golf brings to mind the fact that Jim Noble, not yet 17, made them blink during a Pocono Manor-Northampton team golf match on the former's course on Saturday. Jim began the back nine with a bird on the 10th hole, parred the 11th, birdied 12 and 13 and eagled the par five 14th. Noble, one of the top young golfers in the nation, had troubles elsewhere but still managed to finish with a 72, one stroke under par.

Harry Obitz, head golf pro at Shawnee and one of the moving forces behind the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities, is scheduled to play golf with the famed Tommy Armour at Blind Brook Country Club, New York, on Thursday. Members of the Bangor Little League witnessed the Brooklyn-Philadelphia baseball game in Ebbets field last Saturday with all expenses covered by the Little League.

The poles for the Memorial Stadium lighting system haven't arrived as yet, but are expected most any day. Construction of the lights will begin immediately after the poles are delivered. There isn't any better food in the world than that served at Harry's Farm, where some of the top notch fighters in the business, including Nino Valdes, have been training in recent months. You can take this scribe's word for that fact. Valdes leaves for New York this afternoon. He meets Hurricane Tommy Jackson in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Lee Waltz, an announcer at radio station WVPO, is scheduled to enter the disc jockey stock car race at Nazareth in the very near future. Youngsters of the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Littles will have the thrill of their young lives today when they hear Joe E. Brown speak at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Brown, who endeared himself to every serviceman in the South Pacific during World War II, has a way with youngsters that is second to none in show business. Brown is now appearing in "The Show Off" at Pocono Playhouse.

A meeting of the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities ticket committee will take place at East Stroudsburg High school today at 7:30 p.m. It is being held to check on the sale of tickets thus far in the young campaign. Paul Bartholomew is in charge of the widespread ticket setup. Al Smith, assistant golf pro at Pocono Manor, plans a week's vacation at the shore this week. Al is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and of Tobyhanna Township High school.

Norman Camp, once a pitcher with the Bloomingdale, N. J. entry in the now defunct North Atlantic League, is currently sporting a record of nine victories and four setbacks for Tulsa, of the class "AA" Texas League. Good defensive plays reportedly featured most of the Pocono Mountains League baseball games over the weekend.

West End A. C. Plans Picnic

Effort—West End A. C., an entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, held a monthly meeting here at the Pohopoko Hotel last night and made plans for a picnic on Saturday, July 24.

Attractions

The picnic, to be held at the West End Fair grounds, will feature cake walks, games and music by the Valley Rangers.

All-Stars To Practice On Two Days

Security Trust finished in championship form last night to score an 8-4 victory over the Veterans of Foreign Wars and improve its first place standings in the Stroudsburg Little League. The game took place on the circuit's official field.

The Vets held a 3-2 advantage entering the fifth frame, when the Security Trust power broke loose for four runs in the fifth frame and two in the sixth. The Vets completed the scoring with one run in the bottom of the fifth.

Patterson Stops Royer

New York (AP)—Floyd Patterson, former Olympic middleweight champion, stopped Jacques Royer of France last night by a technical knockout when the latter was not permitted to come out for the eighth and final round because of a badly cut right eye at St. Nicholas Arena.

Royer, who weighed 166 to Patterson's 164¾, was outclassed through most of the fight. He suffered cuts over the left eye and the top of his forehead.

No Defense

The Frenchman seemed to have no defense against Patterson's rights to the head. As early as the first round Royer was cut over his left eye.

In this session, Patterson, in spite of inflicting a decisive beating to Royer, was caught with a left hook to the body and knocked down for a count of six before the bell ended the round.

Practice Session Set

Tannersville — Practice for the Little League and Babe Ruth League teams in this area will be held here on the Pocono High school field today at 6:30 p.m.

LIGHTS — Harry Obitz, head golf pro at Shawnee, is shown above on the left with assistant Dick Farley, right, showing Tony Midiri, Glen Brook Country Club pro, just how they hope to turn on the lights at Memorial Stadium with the big Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show on Sunday, August 15. Midiri pledged to do all in his power to make the show a success. The show is being held to construct a permanent lighting system at Memorial Stadium. (Staff Photo by Riley)

Veteran Comedian To Address Little League Stars Today

Joe E. Brown, famed stage and screen comedian, will speak to a combined attendance of boys from the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues at the Penn-Stroud Hotel today, 12:30.

Players of the two leagues have been invited to dinner as the guest of Gerald P. O'Neill, owner of the Penn-Stroud.

Brown, famous for his large mouth and wailing voice, will speak at the Penn-Stroud Hotel through the cooperation of the Pocono Playhouse where he is appearing in "The Show Off" this week.

The well known comedian has been a terrific hit on both the stage and screen for many years and was an outstanding success while entertaining servicemen in the South Pacific during World War II.

Great Performance

Brown will always be remembered for his role in "Alibi Ike" one of the most entertaining baseball movies ever filmed.

Joe was a member of the New York Yankees' broadcasting staff last season.

Each of the players is to attend the banquet in uniform.

Dr. Evan C. Reese and T. Manning "Cap" Curtis,—presidents of the East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg Little Leagues respectively, and one manager of each team will also attend the banquet.

Softball Loop Changes Plans

Plans announced yesterday for the second annual Monroe County Softball League Tournament were scrapped last night, an announcement by Jack Mullins, circuit president, revealed.

Another meeting will be held Thursday, at Mullins' home, 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg, to plan further for the tournament.

Reason

The change in plans was made necessary due to a misunderstanding concerning plans involving at least two teams.

As of late last night at least seven and possibly eight entries are in line for the tournament which begins next Monday.

The colorful Dudas toured the 18-hole layout in 65, seven under par. He covered the front nine in 33 and came home in 32.

Dudas played a steady game over the 6,120-yard layout and collected $300 for his labors.

Mountainhome — Barrett Lions erupted for nine runs in the second inning here at Siglin field last night and then coasted to an 11-6 victory over Barrett Rotary in a Pocono Little League game.

The highlight of the nine-run inning was a towering home run by Carl O'Merle with one mate on base.

Otherwise the contest featured the fine pitching of Bradley Oliver who limited Rotary to four hits and retired 13 batters on strikes. He also issued nine bases on balls.

Leo Smith pitched the route for Rotary, but was hampered throughout the contest by six errors by his supporting case.

Pocono Lions Triumph Over Mount Pocono

Pocono Pines — Pocono Lions scored two runs in the sixth and final inning, after two batters had been retired, to earn an 11-9 verdict over Mount Pocono Rotary in a Pocono Little League game played here last night.

The victory enabled Pocono Lions to tie the Mount Pocono contingent for first place in the standings.

Only the third inning failed to produce at least one run in the ball game. Mount Pocono's big frame was a four-run outburst in the fourth, while Pocono Lions did the bulk of their damage by picking up five markers in the second.

Errors Hurt

Pocono Lions held a 19-7 edge in hits, but Mount Pocono took advantage of five errors by the Lions to remain in the thick of the battle. Lou Kinney homered in a losing cause.

The Pocono Little League will play no more games until after its playoff contest with Stroudsburg Little League, at Stroudsburg, next Monday.

Kulp's Club Blasts Ronson In Softball

Kulp's Foundry went on a hitting spree at Gordon Giffels field last night to earn a one-sided 28-6 victory over Ronson IAM in a Monroe County Softball League game played under the lights.

Eagles Fly Over Keiper's Laundry, 13-4

A 13-4 verdict over Keiper's Laundry last night enabled the Eagles to pull into a first place tie with Jack's Market in the Monroe County Softball League pennant race. The twilight encounter was played at Stroudsburg Playground.

The Eagles scored in every inning to learn the victory, beginning with two in the first inning and finishing the offense with a single counter in the home half of the sixth.

Winner

Gail Fegley was touched for nine hits, but the veteran right hander was too tough in the clutch for the Laundrymen.

Today's schedule pits Worthington Mower against Jack's Market, at Stroudsburg Playground, while Al Besecker's Diner and Empire Box meet at Gordon Giffels field. The Playground tussle begins at 6:30 p. m. and the Giffels field outing immediately after the final twilight out.

Cleveland (AP) — "Whitey" Ford, 25-year-old New York Yankee lefthander, is Manager Casey Stengel's surprise pitching choice to start against Philadelphia's Robin Roberts in today's 21st All-Star baseball game at Municipal Stadium.

Seeking to break a four-game American League losing streak, Stengel drew on his own staff to face the favored National Leaguers who pack three lefthanded sluggers—Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski, Brooklyn's "Duke" Snider and St. Louis' Stan Musial — in their starting lineup.

With a break from the weatherman who predicts a partly cloudy day with the thermometer soaring to the middle 90s, the All-Star attendance record of 69,-812, set at Cleveland in 1935, might be broken.

More conservative estimates call for about 65,000 loyal souls, despite Cleveland's "lost weekend" in Chicago.

Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EDT) with network radio Mutual and television NBC and Mutual coverage. In case of rain, the game will be played at 8 p.m. (EDT) tonight. If the weather should force other postponements, Commissioner Ford Frick has set aside 11 a.m., 2 p.m. or 8 p.m. (all EDT) Wednesday.

The game receipts plus the $110,000 radio-TV money go into the central fund out of which the player pensions are paid.

Although the Americans still hold a 12-8 edge in the series, the Nationals' home run power makes Manager Walter Alston's team an eight to five choice.

Both clubs are in tough shape for pitching after Sunday's heavy doubleheader firing and injuries that cost the Americans the services of New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia, two of the very best.

Stengel admits he planned to use Garcia until he got word Sunday that he was unable to pitch for his own team against the White Sox. He also expected to use Chicago's Virgil Trucks but may not work him because he pitched a tiring nine-inning game Sunday.

"I wanted a lefty to get after their lefthanders," Stengel said, explaining his choice of Ford who has been erratic in compiling a spotty 7-6 record. Ford, however, threw a strong game against Boston last week and looked so good in relief at Washington Saturday night that the Senators' third baseman, Eddie Yost, said "If he throws like that nobody ever will hit him."

Alston, who got the job as a freshman manager because Brooklyn dropped Chuck Dressen the '53 pennant winner, followed the book in naming Roberts (11-8), a 27-year-old righthander who started three of the last four National League victories since 1950. No club, incidentally, ever has won five in a row. The Americans copped four straight from 1946 through 1949 and then the Nationals took charge.

Stengel won't name a second or third pitcher until today. From his conversation, you get the idea he is thinking of Washington's Bob Porterfield or Chicago's Sandy Consuegra (Garcia's replacement for the middle three. That would give him well-rested Bob Keegan of Chicago or Dean Stone of Washington, his other lefty, to finish up. "Casey" pointed out that the last pitcher could possibly work more than the maximum three innings in case it should go into extra innings.

Stengel also will have available Baltimore's Bob Turley, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Trucks, all of whom pitched Sunday.

After Roberts, Alston is undecided. He probably will shift to a lefthander, Johnny Antonelli of New York, for the middle three. That would leave lefthander Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and righthanders Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Marv Grissom of New York and Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Jim Wilson. Five of the Nationals' seven pitchers worked Sunday, Spahn pitched Saturday and Antonelli Friday.

The problem of "where to play Willie Mays" will face Alston after three innings. He said he would remove Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn from lefifield after three. He might shift Snider to rigat and play Musial in left, leaving centerfield open for the sensational New York outfielder who leads both majors — and "Babe" Ruth's record pace—with 31 home runs. Or he might play Mays in left.

A's Add To List Of Troubles

Philadelphia (AP)—The fortunes of the Philadelphia Athletics are at rock bottom today with a financial crisis growing worse, a pitching staff in a state of collapse and finally the loss by injury of one of the most potent batsmen.

The payoff came Sunday in a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox. The visitors trounced the A's 18-0 and 11-1 at Connie Mack Stadium but the real woe was the loss of slugging outfielder Gus Zernial who suffered a fractured left collarbone chasing a fly. He will be lost to the team for at least six weeks.

Statement

Manager Eddie Joost said Zernial's injury was an "unfortunate thing." The big leftfielder tripped while making a diving stab at a fly off the bat of Billy Consolo which went for a double.

Joost said the team experienced some "bad pitching" Sunday and "when you've got a club that should hit and doesn't, you're in bad shape if you don't get the pitching." The double loss dropped the A's to within a half-game of last place Baltimore.

Joost said he felt the absence of pitcher Bobby Shantz had a "great deal" to do with the team's poor showing this year. The ace left-hander suffered a recurrence of an arm injury the first game of the season and has been out of the lineup since.

Shantz was a great morale lifter, the first-year manager said.

"If we lost three games, we had someone to stop 'em," he said.

The A's yesterday sent Bob Trice to their Ottawa farm club in the International League along with Ossie Van Brabant and brought up lefty Johnny Gray and righthander Charley Bishop.

$25,000 Drive Undertaken By Firemen

PORTLAND — Local residents were asked yesterday to assist in a drive for $25,000 to build a new fire house.

According to the written appeal, Portland Hook and Ladder Co. recently purchased a lot for the new house which will be located on State St. The one-story building of cement block will house fire equipment, a recreation room, shower and kitchen.

A successful campaign was conducted two years ago for the purchase of a $15,000 pumper, officials said. This year letters have been sent to residents here for subscriptions to the fire company for the new headquarters.

The major portion of the necessary funds must be raised through these contributions, officials announced.

Law Library Expansion Considered

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS held a short regular meeting yesterday morning in their office.

Chief Clerk Harry Taylor said only routine business was transacted. Bills were approved for payment and two assistance cases were considered, Taylor said.

Commissioners are also considering provision of added space for the county law library, Taylor said. Shelving already in stock will be measured to determine whether it can be used in a room adjoining the present library, Taylor said.

Actress Takes Rest Before Facing Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald has gone to Hawaii for a rest before facing trial on misdemeanor charges of hit and run driving while under the influence of drugs, her husband said yesterday.

The husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, said she left "with my blessing" and denied reports they have separated. Miss McDonald was accompanied by their two children, he said.

The actress' lawyer, G. Bentley Ryan, said of the separation report: "There is no definite legal separation. They have had domestic difficulties but there has been no final break or decision."

RYAN SAID the actress left by plane for Honolulu Sunday night, and he does not know how long she will remain there, "although I believe it will be a short visit." She has been ill and left a hospital only last week, he added.

Miss McDonald is scheduled for trial Oct. 4. She was arrested last June 21 after her car hit three parked automobiles and a fourth which was halted for a stop sign. She told police she had taken two nembutol and four seconal tablets which her physician had prescribed.

DL&W Starts 'Piggy-Back' Operations

NEW YORK (AP) — Four railroads said yesterday they are starting the trailer-on-flatcar or "piggyback" operations immediately.

They were among six railroads prevented from doing this June 16 by an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling which suspended their proposed rate schedules. The ICC rescinded this order Friday.

The four railroads starting piggy-back operations yesterday are the Pennsylvania, the Erie, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Nickel Plate New York, Chicago & St. Louis.

A FIFTH railroad which fell under the ICC ban, the Baltimore & Ohio said it would begin its service July 20.

No announcement was forthcoming immediately from the sixth railroad, the Wabash.

The Pennsylvania said it had started the service between New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

THE LACKAWANNA said it is beginning the service between the New York-Newark, N. J. area and Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago.

Lackawanna service west of Buffalo, it was announced, would operate in connection with the Nickel Plate and Wabash to Chicago and the Nickel Plate to Cleveland.

Erie said it would operate piggyback between New York and Chicago.

Fires Occur At Reish, Kohl Farms

STROUD Township firemen were called into action at farm fires twice yesterday afternoon.

The flames from an out-of-control brush fire at the Carl Kohl farm on Chipperfield Drive were menacing a large barn on the property when the firemen and truck from Middle Stroud Township answered a call at 12:45 p.m.

USING ABOUT 800 gallons of water, the firemen brought the fire under control and by 1:45 p. m. it was all over. Workmen had been cutting trees and underbrush on the farm, firemen reported, and the fire from the brush piles got beyond control.

The second fire occurred at the Orien Reish farm, Stroudsburg RD 3, when a tractor backfired and set fire to a combine and a wheat field.

THE FIREMEN received the call at 3:30 p.m. and were on duty until 4:05. They extinguished the blaze by using water from an auxiliary tank on their truck.

A half acre of uncut wheat burned. The fire also caused $200 damage to the combine and $50 to a tractor tire, firemen said.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"Happy Birthday, Mr. Wyckoff, Happy Birthday to You." Maybe we won't have the opportunity of singing these words aloud today, but the sentiments are resounding, I am sure, in the hearts of at least 250 Wyckoff and Sears employees. The birth date of "our boss" is one instance where the 13th was very, very lucky for a great many people. He is our friend as well as one of the finest employers any one could ever hope to have, and there aren't words expressive enough of the good will and affection we feel today. Even though we sing off key, our store-wide wish is a most sincere—"Happy Birthday, dear 'Papa', Happy Birthday to you."

* * *

Bill Wells asks me to call attention to the half-price sale now in progress in our sportswear and fashion departments. There are some wonderful mark-downs in dresses, coats and suits, and many of my store friends tell me they've been finding amazing values on the racks.

Bill also calls attention to our new line of Carolyn Schnurer swim suits—cottons all, and as delectable as any we've ever seen anywhere at any price. The Carolyn Schnurer name is a guarantee of distinction and quality, for only $8.98 and $10.98.

You already know about our Jantzens, from $10.98 to $25, and our Catalinas priced from $10.98 to $17.98. All of these famous suits come in dressmaker, bloomer or boy styles, sizes 32 to 40. We also carry a line of suits priced at $5.98 and up. Whichever label you choose, you are assured of smartness, comfort, and glamour on the beach. And, as Bill points out, "you're never surer than in a Schnurer."

* * *

Someone tells me that Lorraine Flagler had a birthday yesterday. That being so, congratulations to our store shopper. Lorraine has one gift that has nothing at all to do with birthdays—the gift of making our telephone and mail order customers happy. Whatever your needs may be, if you cannot visit the store personally, call her. She'll gladly shop Wyckoff's for you, make a selection, charge it to your account and place it in delivery. If her choice is not fully satisfactory, you are free to return the merchandise for exchange or credit. But that seldom happens. She has the same good taste we hope she found in her birthday cake!

* * *

I suppose that it's only natural, with all this birthday talk, that my mind should turn to our Cardcade and its many varied greetings. Do you know someone with a new baby? We have a perfect verse of welcome and affection. Do you know someone celebrating a 50th anniversary, getting married tomorrow, or recovering from an operation? Whatever your need for a card, we are certain to have the perfect answer to your needs, saying exactly what you would say if you didn't become tongue-tied on momentous occasions.

Why, we even have a table full of Christmas cards at the moment, and they're lovely. Is there anyone you forgot last year? Then why not begin addressing cards to those you might forget THIS year?
